

Cell Phone Electromagnetic Toxicity

September 26, 2008

Cell phone use can come with side effects. Mobile phones can harm your body from a bombardment of electromagnetic microwave interference. Find out what to do.

Can you trust anything anymore?

Mainstream scientists seem agreed, but the federal government and key business interests keep assuring us things are just fine. 'Go home...there's nothing to see here.'

While those in positions of power and influence continue to deny the evidence, scientists are becoming more vocal about the problem. Cell phones may be indispensable, but they are not good for you. Their electromagnetic energy is based on microwave technology. The same microwaves that cook your frozen dinner are zapping your brain, skin, organs and disrupting your electric energy...your essence.

Cell phones are toxic because they emit radiation in hyper frequencies that penetrate skin and tissue. This can damage organs like your brain! Cell phone radiation is a poison, a toxin like any chemical you may be exposed to...and cell phone radiation is more toxic to children than to adults.

What...hold the phone? Are we saying that people...life itself...is based on electric energy? Is that right?

You are wired

Yes! It's a fact that 99.9% of the matter in the universe is plasma, an ionically charged state of matter. And without electromagnetic energy in the magnetosphere protecting us from the solar wind, life on earth would be impossible.

Additionally, the following basic life-supporting systems are based on electric phenomenon:

- Your heart beat
- Your brain waves
- Your nerve impulses
- Nutrient uptake & cellular respiration

Indeed, all of the cells in your body are comprised of no more than atomic-electric energy. This means that as living beings we are essentially energy units. And as such, we are subject to and susceptible to other forms of electromagnetic interference; conversely we are capable of benefitting from therapeutic bio-electric energies as well.

A call on your cell

Cell phones produce small amounts of harmful micro-electric radiation. More and more, scientists are discovering the toxicity of this form of pollution to human cellular function. In testimony before US congress on September 29th, 2008, they issued strong warnings about overuse of cell phones, particularly for the young because of cell phone toxicity.

"a paper published this month by the Royal Society in London found that adolescents who start using cell phones before the age of 20 were five times more likely to develop brain cancer at the age of 29 than those who didn't use a cell phone."

If cell phones overuse can disrupt your energy and cause cellular havoc, what can help relieve the deterioration? We're probably not going to abandon the use of cellular technology just because cell phone radiation is toxic!

Good vibrations

Many scientists think that ingesting and surrounding your body with negative ionic energy fields helps soothe and restore your body's natural electric patterns. Likewise, your body must be equipped with the building blocks of health to combat cell phone radiation and toxicity. This means minerals and antioxidants.

ION-MIN[®] is a powerful negatively charged ionic material that can be used as a supplement or as a skin treatment to support healthful biological function. It is 100% natural, pure--toxin free, and beneficial clay mineral straight from an unpolluted subsurface mine in the US desert Southwest. The clay is compact and in pristine condition from a time before mankind has left its chemical "footprint" on the earth. It is a very special "mud"...but it may be the cleanest thing you've ever used. Many toxins, heavy metals, and bacteria are discharged from your body when in the presence of this colloidal, cationic compound.

Our calcium montmorillonite clay mineral complex is all-natural, and combats many forms of toxicity while it recharges your body with electrolytes and trace minerals. It has 57 macro, micro and trace minerals needed to support healthy, strong bodies. Used as a supplement or bathing compound, we believe you can mitigate many forms of toxicity in our environment.

ION-MIN[®] A natural--premium ionic mineral compound!
